

Douglas Brinkley and Richard Norton Smith's Book Selections

DOUGLAS BRINKLEY

Douglas Brinkley's Favorite Presidential Campaign Books

Norman Mailer, The Presidential Papers
Hunter S. Thompson, Fear and Loathing on the Campaign Trail '72
Richard Ben Cramer, What It Takes
Timothy Crouse, The Boys on the Bus
Jacob Riis, The Making of an American
Jules Witcover, Marathon: The Pursuit of the Presidency 1972-1976

Douglas Brinkley's Favorite Political Biographies

Edmund Morris, The Rise of Theodore Roosevelt
Sam Tanenhaus, Whittaker Chambers
Rick Perlstein, Nixonland
Doris Kearns Goodwin, No Ordinary Time
Robert Dallek, Nixon and Kissinger

Douglas Brinkley's Favorite Writers

Charles Darwin
Garry Wills
Maureen Dowd
Christopher Hitchens
Tom Wolfe

Douglas Brinkley's Favorite Historians

David McCullough
David Kennedy
David Herbert Donald
David Levering Lewis
Robert Caro

RICHARD NORTON SMITH

Richard Norton Smith's Favorite Presidential Campaign Books

Theodore White, The Making of the President 1960
John Bartlow Martin, The Life of Adlai E. Stevenson
David Pietrusza, 1920: The Year of the Six Presidents
Steve Neal, Happy Days Are Here Again
Edward O'Connor, The Last Hurrah
Richard Ben Cramer, What It Takes

Richard Norton Smith's Favorite Political Biographies

T. Harry Williams, Huey Long
Roy Jenkins, Churchill
David McCullough, John Adams
Robert Remini, Henry Clay
Kenneth Davis, FDR (5 vols.)

Richard Norton Smith's Favorite Writers

W. Somerset Maugham
Willa Cather
Charles Dickens
William Manchester
Allan Nevins

Richard Norton Smith's Favorite Historians

David McCullough
Allan Nevins
Ron Chernow
Robert K. Massie
John Campbell